REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Before the Court is the plaintiff's application to proceed in forma pauperis ("IFP"). This matter comes before the undersigned pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b) and the rules of this Court for consideration of the plaintiff's IFP application. The undersigned has considered the plaintiff's application [Doc. 1] in determining whether the plaintiff is entitled to proceed with IFP status.

Title 28 U.S.C. § 1915 authorizes an indigent plaintiff to file a complaint without prepayment of the usual filing fee. The purpose of the statute is "to ensure that indigent litigants have meaningful access to the courts." Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 324 (1989) (citing Adkins v. E.I. DuPont de Nemours & Co., 335 U.S. 331, 342 (1948)). The Court's review of an application to proceed IFP is generally based solely on the affidavit of indigence. See, e.g., Gibson v. R. G. Smith Co., 915 F.3d 260, 262-63 (6th Cir. 1990). The threshold requirement a petitioner must meet in order to proceed IFP is to show, by affidavit, he/she is unable to pay court fees and costs. 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a). An affidavit to proceed IFP is sufficient if it shows the petitioner's financial situation will not permit him/her to pay for the costs of the litigation and also be able to provide the necessities of life for himself/herself and his/her dependents. Adkins, 355 U.S. at 339.

The plaintiff's affidavit here does not show she is unable to pay the $350.00 filing fee while still affording the necessities of life. The plaintiff and her spouse's assets include equity in their home and her spouse's income is approximately $2400 per month, with itemized expenses per month of only $1,778.60. No doubt, the plaintiff's financial situation is strained, but I cannot find she is unable to pay the Court's filing fee. Accordingly, I RECOMMEND the motion to proceed IFP [Doc. 1] be DENIED.¹

In order to accommodate plaintiff's financial situation, however, I further RECOMMEND that she be allowed to pay the filing fee in installments of $35 per month for ten months and that the clerk be directed to file the complaint upon payment of the initial installment with the plaintiff to provide for her own service of the complaint at her own cost.
